

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Did you reply to Sally and Vanessa's dinner invitation? They are counting the numbers.

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you always reply to invitations?
- How do you usually reply to them?

Can Do Statements

- I can say and use the m and n sound
- I can talk about people's behavior and personality.
- I can stress new information.

Let's Explore!

Who is coming to Sally and Vanessa's dinner party? Are there any stragglers?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: OK, who has still not responded to the RSVP? I think it's a little inconsiderate of them.
- Sally: There are a few stragglers but we've got to make sure we cross people off the list when they respond. I'm not sure if we want people to come if they are not mindful of dates, times and others.
- Vanessa: Well, Deanna from work is a nervous type and to be honest, a little neurotic around people she doesn't know.
- Sally: I see Michael hasn't replied either. I'm sure he will though. He always tends to be motivated by food and I included a menu in the invitation.
- Vanessa: He's also a little mischievous. Remember that time he rudely messaged you at two o'clock in the morning about being a fighter pilot?
- Sally: Yeah, I was not impressed, especially when he drives a bus.
- Vanessa: We've got to uninvite him, I think.
- Sally: What about the saxophonist you met at the party? You said he had a magnetic personality. Have you heard from him?
- Vanessa: Maybe, we'll see. I've got to see if he'll play a solo for us.
- Sally: That's a shame. Who else is on the list?

Let's Practice!

Time to say and compare the *m and n sounds at the beginning of words.

*m: You create the m sound by closing your lips and touching the top of your mouth behind your teeth to block the air.

n: You create the n sound by having your lips open and your tongue touching the top of your mouth behind your teeth to block the air.

Instructions: Underline the m and n sounds. Practice yourself saying the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. mindful
2. nervous
3. mischievous
4. neurotic
5. magnetic
6. He's also a little mischievous.
7. You said he had a magnetic personality.
8. Deanna from work is a nervous type and to be honest, a little neurotic around people she doesn't know.

Let's Practice!

Shy, loud, rude, kind - Let's talk about people's personalities

Instructions: Draw a line to match the sentences in Column A and Column B.

COLUMN A

1. Deanna from work is a nervous
2. He's also a little
3. You said he
4. I think it's a
5. I was not impressed, especially
6. He always tends to be

COLUMN B

- a. had a magnetic personality.
- b. mischievous.
- c. motivated by food and I included a menu in the invitation.
- d. little inconsiderate of them.
- e. type and a little neurotic around people she doesn't know.
- f. when he drives a bus.

Extension Activity

Tell me about your friends and family.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Create a table with three columns.
- On the left side, write the names of 5 friends or a family members.
- In the middle column, write 2 adjectives to describe each person's personality or behavior.
- Use at least three words that start with the m or n sound.
- In the last column, write a sentence that uses one of these words.
- When you are done, read the sentences aloud.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I complete a table that describes personalities and behaviors.

☐ ☐

I write sentences about friends and family members.

☐ ☐

I use the sounds m and n to describe people.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- straggler (noun): a person or animal that moves slower than others and becomes separated from them e.g. There are a few stragglers but we've got to make sure we cross people off the list when they respond.
- mindful (adjective): aware of something that may be important e.g. I'm not sure if we want people to come if they are not mindful of dates.
- neurotic (adjective): often or always fearful or worried about something e.g. She is a little neurotic around people she doesn't know.
- mischievous (noun): causing or tending to cause annoyance or minor harm or damage
e.g. He's also a little mischievous.
- magnetic (adjective): having great power to attract and hold the interest
e.g. You said he had a magnetic personality.
- fighter pilot (noun): a pilot who works in the armed forces
e.g. Michael was a fighter pilot.

Learning Points

Reduction of have got

Have	Have Got (Reduction)
I have an invitation.	I've got an invitation.
You have an invitation.	You've got an invitation.
He has/She has an invitation.	He's got an invitation. She's got an invitation.
We have an invitation.	We've got an invitation.
They have an invitation.	They've got an invitation.

Examples:

- We've got to make sure we cross people off the list.
- I've got to see if he'll play a solo for us.

Stressing new information

Sentence stress gives English its rhythm or "beat".

Word stress is emphasis on one syllable within a word.

Sentence stress is emphasis on certain words within a sentence.

Most sentences have two basic types of words:

content words

- Content words are the important or key words in a sentence. They provide the meaning of the sentence.

structure words

- Structure words are not important words. They are small words that you use to make the sentence correct.

Stressing New Information

You pronounce new information with more breath force, since it is more prominent.

Examples:

- Vanessa: Remember when he rudely messaged you at two o'clock in the morning about that party?
- Sally: Yeah, I was not impressed.

