Let's Start!

If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe personal and regional eating habits and cooking in a range of communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can describe how to prepare food.
- I can talk about quantities and amounts.
- I can talk about what is necessary.

Ask your partner:

- What dish do you usually prepare when you have guests at home? Do you prepare a lot of food?
- What ingredients and utensils do you need for this preparation?
- What skills are necessary in order to work in a kitchen?

Let's Explore!

The pulled pork is almost done! Vanessa is serving a few canape platters in the meantime.

* A "canape" is a French word. In English we use many French words when we talk about food.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Hey, V! Our guests are supposed to come in two hours. How's everything in the kitchen?
- Vanessa: I'm going to need a bit more time with the pulled pork. The sliders are done. We can serve a few canape platters while we wait for the main dishes.
- Sally: Dishes? What else did you make?
- Vanessa: I sliced a few pounds of potatoes and made fries! I used that new skillet I got a while ago. I need to combine them with the pulled pork, and pour a few ladles of gravy on top.
- Sally: Oooh! That sounds like you're making poutine! You've got to use the gravy boat I got you from my trip to Montreal.
- Vanessa: I'm going to have to make that gravy first!
- Sally: You mean it's not ready?
- Vanessa: I needed to wait until I could get some juice from the meat. The gravy has got to thicken before I can add it to the dish.
- Sally: Alright ... Let me get a few bottles of beer and wine ready just in case.
- Vanessa: A couple of pitchers of juice would be nice, too.

Let's Practice!

Let's get the quantities right!

Instructions: Underline the words related to quantifiers and amounts. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. I need to slice a few pounds of potatoes.
2. I'm pouring two ladles of gravy.
3. Let me get a few bottles of water.
4. A couple of pitchers of juice would be nice, too.

Let's Practice!

If you want to help in the kitchen, you need to remember a few important things!

Instructions: Cross out the incorrect words in the sentences. The first example is already done.

1. need / a bit / time / pulled / the / more / pork. / I'm / with / going to

2. use/ to / boat / my / the / You've got / Trip / got / I / to / gravy / you from / Montreal.

3. make / first! / I'm / to / going / that / gravy / have to

4. before / The / thicken / add it / has got / to / gravy / to / dish. / the / I / can

Extension Activity

Write a shopping list for your next dinner party.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of a party you would like to organize.
- Write down what kind of food you want to prepare, how many people you would like to invite and what you need to do to get ready.
- Write a shopping list about all the ingredients and drinks, including the quantities.
- Read your list to your partner.
- Write down your partner's list. Talk about what ingredients are similar or different.

Learning Points

Expressing What is Necessary

You use modals like should and must or expressions like You have got to ... or going to have to to express what is necessary.

You can use the following to express what is necessary:

- You had better ...
- You have got to ...
- I'm going to have to ...
- You need to ...

Examples:

• Ann: I'm going to need a bit more time with the pulled pork.

Bob: You've got to use the gravy boat I gave you!

Ann: I'm going to have to make that gravy first!

• You'd better get a new, bigger skillet, to fry these slices.

Quantifiers and Amounts

- You use quantifiers to talk about the quantity or amount of something.
- Remember there are general and specific quantifiers.

	General Quantifiers	Specific Quantifiers
Count Nouns	All Most Many Some Any A few A lot of A couple of No	All of Most of Many of Some of Any of A few of A lot of (the ...) A couple of (the ...) None of
